Planting Seeds for Growth

A new year brings new opportunities for growth and as Community Action of Southern Indiana looks forward to its 2023 – 2024 fiscal year, opportunities for growth abound.

As we work to fulfill CASI's mission of supporting and empowering families and communities striving to reach self-sufficiency, we will be implementing new programs, strengthening bonds with our community partners, serving more people, and building the Beloved Community.

CASI currently operates 15 programs which assist thousands of low income individuals each year. The Minority Health Initiative's Back to School Health Fair serves about 2,000 people in one day! Dozens of low income individuals get their tax returns done for free through Our Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program. Each year, over 50 families experience reduced utility bills thanks to their homes being weatherized through our Weatherization Program. Students are being mentored, Black-owned businesses are receiving assistance, and people are learning to manage household budgets. Young children are receiving the skills they need to succeed in kindergarten and beyond. Young parents are learning how to be better parents.

There is more that can be done, however, so this year CASI will be launching some new initiatives. One of these is an infant and toddler program through our Head Start Program. Head Start is already serving young children and their families from pre-natal to age 5, but the addition on an on-site infant and toddler program will help young parents with quality day care and will help these very young children in a safe, loving, and stimulating environment. CASI will be partnering with the Gilt Edge Community Development Corporation to offer no-cost expungement services. CASI will be addressing the growing need for affordable housing by building duplexes on land it recently purchased on Plank Road in Jeffersonville. And CASI will be establishing a diaper bank to help low-income young parents mitigate the high cost of keeping their babies clean and dry.

Beyond fiscal year 2023 - 2024, CASI is planning to build an accessible community Splash Park on its campus.

Community Action of Southern Indiana will need the help of the entire community to continue growing, add needed services, and make sure low-income individuals and families are not left behind. We encourage you to partner with us by donating to this mission. Every single dollar counts. Every donation matters.

We encourage you, also, to attend our events. For instance, CASI's Makers of Change Gala is a great way to have a great time while showing your support.

Volunteer, if you are able. There are number of events throughout the year that are fueled by volunteers.

Help us tell our story. Tell your family, friends, co-workers, and contacts about the good work CASI is doing and is planning to do. Follow us on social media and share our posts. Forward our emails to everyone you know and cheer us on whenever you can. Your love and support make a difference.

What Do You Think?

This is the question Community Action of Southern Indiana is continually asking members of the community, its partners, and its customers. The answers provide a foundation upon which CASI is able to build future programs and improve existing ones. CASI uses community input to create a plan for growth.

One new program which CASI is in the process of implementing, based on direct community input, is an employment transportation program for low-income individuals and persons in recovery.

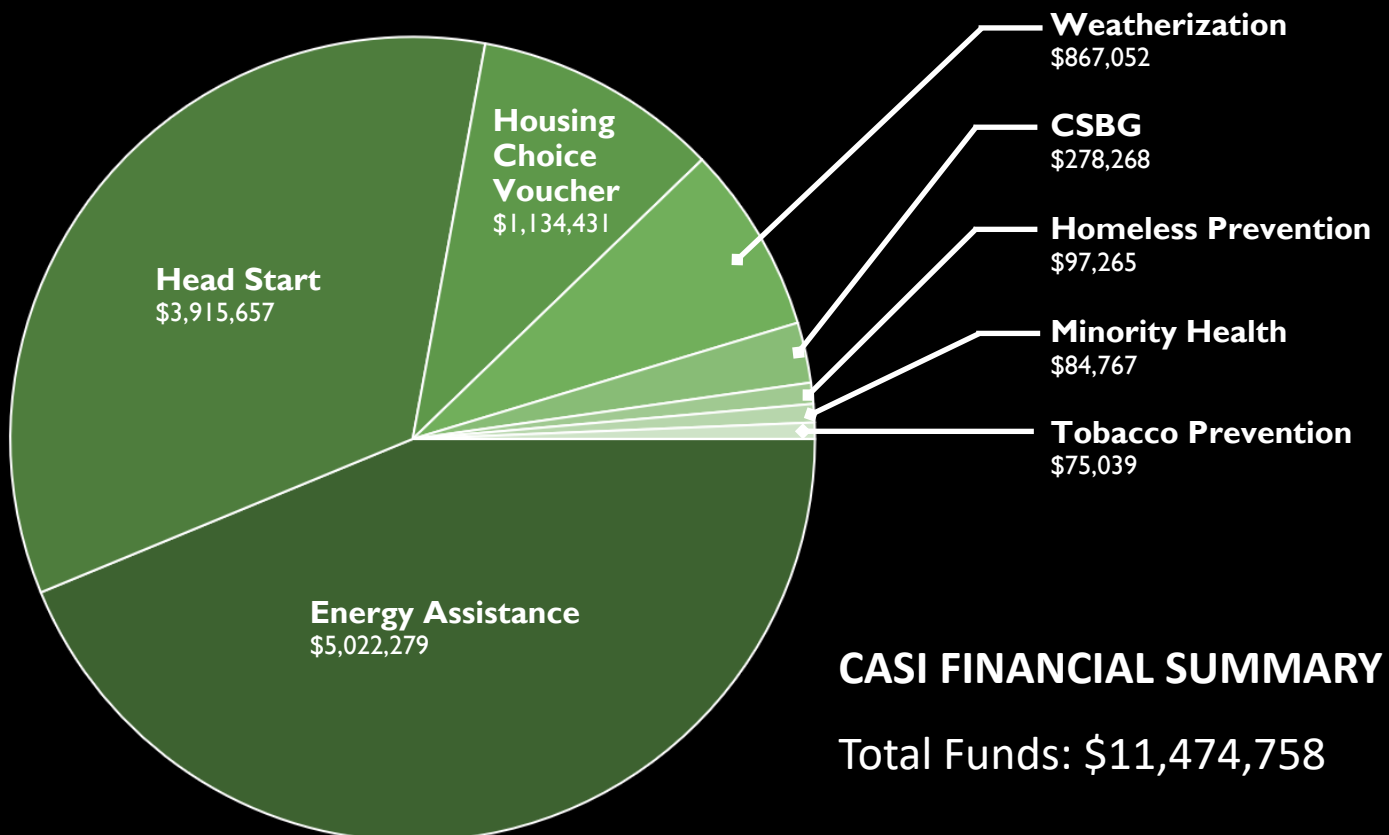

For low-income people, having reliable transportation is a key component to finding and keeping a good job. When transportation options fail and a person cannot get to work on time, or at all, employment may be put at risk. So, CASI is creating a transportation network to connect low-income workers with the area's employment hubs.

Also, meaningful work is becoming increasingly recognized as a critical component of recovery. Work provides the individual in recovery the ability to enhance self-esteem and to build confidence and self-worth by providing the person with the opportunity to invest in something in which she, he, or they can be successful. Employment is a vehicle for reintegrating the recovering person into the community as a productive and contributing member of society. Employment makes her, him, or them feel worthwhile and self-confident. Employment becomes a means for social readjustment and is, therefore, both an element of treatment and a desired outcome.

Sometimes, many people who are early recovery have lost their driving privileges which make finding and keeping a good job difficult. Many of our community's better paying jobs are not within walking distance of recovery residences.

CASI is committed to helping individuals in recovery find health and wellness and experience success. Since transportation is a barrier to employment for low-income individuals and for people in recovery, CASI is working to remove that barrier.

CASI's transportation service will allow persons in recovery to expand their employment opportunities. Individuals will be able to seek and find employment in Southern Indiana's areas of growth, which may mean higher wages with jobs leading to more responsibility. Such jobs enhance self-esteem and reinforce recovery.
